

EXPLORE AND APPLY TO GRADUATE SCHOOL
AT THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

Asian Languages & Cultures

The Department of Asian Languages and Cultures is student-centered and driven by research that is integrated into the classroom. With thematic foci in Asian languages, linguistics and literature, Asian cultural studies, religions of Asia, and critical issues in contemporary Asia, we aim to teach students how to recognize and critically analyze the realities of past and present “Asia” as a region that is crucial to the global flows of people, materials, and ideas through its own rich complexity with deep interconnection across multiple domains.

We offer graduate programs in:
Asian Languages and Cultures, M.A. and Ph.D.
Chinese, M.A. and Ph.D.
Japanese, M.A. and Ph.D.

We welcome applications from Prospective AOF eligible students for travel grants to visit UW-Madison campus to meet our faculty, staff, and graduate students.

Key deadlines

- We accept applications for the fall term only.
- In order to be considered for Fellowships, Project Assistantships, and Teaching Assistantships, all application materials must be in by January 10th.
- If you do not need any funding support, you may submit applications by April 15th.
